Men Explain Things to Me was a natural choice for my TBR, but the writing quality is just okay, not very evocative or engaging, and the ideas are very basic. Compare this to Roxane Gay or Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie (Bad Feminist, Hunger, We Should All Be Feminists, Dear Ijeawele) and it pales in comparison. I think the str

Men Explain Things to Me by Rebecca Solnit

Men Explain Things to Me (2008) The eponymous essay focuses on the silencing of women, with specific attention to the idea that men seemingly believe that no matter what a woman says, a man always knows better. This phenomenon would later be labelled mansplaining. Though in this essay, Solnit describes how the silencing of female voices is an infringement on female liberty and is in fact an abuse of power.
